Joint Rules

OF THE

Senate and House of Representatives.

1. A Joint Assembly shall be formed by a Union of the Senate and House of Representatives in the Hall of the latter, at such time and for such specific purpose only, as may be expressed in a concurrent resolution of both Houses; and may adjourn from time to time during the session of the General Assembly; and the Secretary of State, or in his absence the Secretary of the Senate, shall officiate as Clerk of every Joint Assembly.

2. The proceedings of every Joint Assembly, including the resolution ordering the same, shall be recorded by the Clerk in a book kept for that purpose, which shall be preserved in the office of the Secretary of State, a copy of which shall be furnished to the Governor by the Secretary of State, and shall also be published with the Journal of the proceedings of the House of Representatives.

3. The rules of the Senate, as far as applicable, shall be observed in regulating the proceedings of every Joint Assembly.

4. A joint committee of three Senators and three Representatives shall be appointed by the presiding officers of the two Houses respectively, to whom may be referred all documents transmitted by the Governor for the use of the General Assembly, who shall report thereon to that House from which they were received.

5. The committees of the Senate and House of Representatives, to whom the same subject matter shall have been referred, may, for the purpose of facilitating business, meet together as a joint committee, and make a joint or separate report to either or both Houses, as they may think expedient.

6. In every case of disagreement between the Senate and House of Representatives, if either shall request a conference and appoint a committee for that purpose, and the other House shall also appoint a committee on its part, such committee shall meet at a convenient hour, to be agreed upon by their chairman, in the conference room, and state to each other, verbally or in writing, the reasons of each House for its vote on the subject matter of disagreement, confer freely thereon, and make a report of their doings to their respective Houses as soon as may be.

7. Committees of Conference shall consist of an equal number from each House, and shall return the papers referred to them to that House which last voted upon the subject matter of disagreement.

8. After each House shall have adhered to the vote of disagreement, a bill or resolution shall be lost.

9. When bills and resolutions are on their passage between the two Houses, they shall be verified by the attestation of the Secretary or Clerk of each House respectively, and all joint resolutions shall be fairly engrossed, after their passage, in the House in which they originate, and shall, when finally passed, be signed by the presiding officer of both Houses, in the same manner as bills.

10. After bills have passed both Houses, and a certificate showing the one in which they respectively originated has been duly endorsed thereon, they shall be delivered to a joint standing committee of two Senators and two members of the House of Representatives, to be designated the Committee on Bills, who shall make careful examination, and see that they are correctly engrossed, and when satisfied of their accuracy, shall present them, first to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and then to the President of the Senate, for their official signatures, and having obtained them, they shall forthwith deliver them to the Governor for his approval, and shall make a true report to both Houses of the day on which such bill was delivered to the Governor, which shall be duly entered upon the Journal of each House.

11. A joint committee of two Senators and two Representatives shall be appointed by the presiding officers of the two Houses respectively, at the commencement of the session, to be designated the Committee on Joint Rules.

12. When a bill or resolution, which shall have passed one House, is rejected in the other, notice thereof shall be given to the House in which the same shall have passed: and all such rejected bills or resolutions, with the accompanying papers, shall be returned to, and left in, the custody of the House which first acted on them.

13. Each House shall transmit to the other all papers on which any bill or resolution shall be founded; and should any bill or resolution pass both Houses, the same papers shall be delivered to the Governor.

14. No bill, which shall have passed one House, shall be sent for concurrence to the other, on either of the last two days of the session.

Rules of the Senate.

The credentials of Senators shall be presented to the Secretary or Assistant Secretary, previous to ten o'clock in the morning of the second Thursday of October, at which time the Senate shall be called to order. The names of the Senators shall be called over, and when a quorum shall have taken their seats, they shall, having first taken the necessary oaths, on nomination of the President, appoint a canvassing committee, consisting of one Senator from each county, to join such committee as the House of Representatives may appoint, whose duty shall be to receive, sort and count the votes for Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Treasurer, and make report thereof to the joint assembly of both Houses.

The Senate shall meet every day (Sundays excepted), at ten o'clock in the morning, and two o'clock in the afternoon, unless otherwise specially ordered.

3.

The President having taken the chair, and a quorum being present, the journal of the preceding day shall be read, and all the errors therein corrected.

In case no quorum shall assemble within fifteen minutes after the time to which the Senate was adjourned, those present shall have the power to send the Sergeant-at-Arms, or other officer, after the absentees and compel their attendance.

5.

Whenever the Senate shall assemble, according to adjournment, or at the commencement of a session, and the President shall be absent, it shall be the duty of the Secretary, if present, if not, of a Senator, to call to order; and the Senators present, if a quorum, shall, by ballot, elect a president pro tempore.

6.

No Senator shall be absent without leave, unless he is sick or otherwise necessarily detained.

7.

No Senator shall audibly speak to another, or otherwise interrupt the business of the Senate, while the journals or other public papers are being read, or while a Senator is orderly speaking in debate.

8.

Every Senator, when he speaks, shall, standing in his place, address the President, and when he has finished, shall sit down.

9.

No member shall speak more than twice on the same question, without leave of the Senate; and Senators who have once spoken shall not again be entitled to the floor, (except for the purpose of explanation,) to the exclusion of another who has not spoken.

10.

In all cases, the Senator first rising and addressing the President, (subject to restriction of rule 9,) shall be entitled to the floor, and when two or more arise at the same time, the President shall name the one who is to speak.

11.

When a Senator shall be called to order, he shall sit down; and every question of order shall be decided by the President without debate, subject to an appeal to the Senate.

12.

If a Senator be called to order for words spoken, the exceptionable words shall be immediately taken down in writing by the Senator calling to order, that the President may be better enabled to judge of the matter.

13.

The first hour of each morning's sitting may be devoted to the reception and disposal of petitions, memorials and remonstrances, motions, resolutions, and the introduction of bills; after which, the orders of the day, or other proper business, shall be announced, always commencing with the unfinished business of the last sitting. The first hour of the afternoon's sitting may be occupied in receiving and disposing of reports of committees, and in completing the business of the morning hour; at the expiration of which, the Senate will again take up the orders of the day.

14.

Reports of committees may be signed by any member in behalf of the committee, and shall be by him presented to the Senate, when the call for reports is made. The signer of each report shall be held responsible for the accuracy of its statements and the propriety of its language, and when the same shall be under consideration, he shall be further liable to give additional statements of facts or other explanations in answer to the call of any Senator.

15.

The proceedings of the Senate, except when acting as in Committee of the Whole, embracing the titles of bills and such parts thereof as may be affected by proposed amendments, and also, the names of Senators, and the votes which they give on every question decided by yeas and nays, shall be by the Secretary accurately and concisely inserted in the Journal.

16.

The Senate shall annually, within the first four days of actual sitting, elect, by ballot, (and a majority of all present shall be necessary to a choice,) a Secretary, and an Assistant Secretary, who shall be ex-officio engrossing clerk, who shall be severally sworn to the faithful discharge of their duties, and shall hold said offices until superseded by a new election. The Senate shall also, within the same time, elect the following Standing Committees, to consist of three members each, to wit:

A Committee on Rules.

A Committee on Finance.

A Committee on the Judiciary.

A Committee on Claims.

A Committee on Education.

A Committee on Agriculture.

A Committee on Manufactures.

A Committee on Elections.

A Committee on Military Affairs.

A Committee on Roads.

A Committee on Banks.

A Committee on Land Taxes.

A Committee on Printing.

A General Committee.

17.

In the appointment of Standing Committees, (except the one mentioned in rule 1,) the Senate will proceed by ballot, severally, to appoint the chairman of each; and then, by one ballot, the other members necessary to complete the same. In the election of a chairman a majority of votes given shall be necessary, but for the others a plurality shall be sufficient. All select committees shall be appointed by the President, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate.

18.

All bills, after the second reading, and all petitions, memorials, remonstrances, resolutions, and other papers calling for legislative action, (except such as have been reported by a committee,) no objection being made, shall be referred by the President to appropriate committces.

19.

Before any resolution, any petition, or other paper, addressed to the Senate, shall be received and read, whether the same shall be introduced by the President or a Senator, the title shall be fairly endorsed thereon, and a brief statement of its objects or contents shall be made by the introducer.

20.

Every motion shall be reduced to writing by the mover, if required thereto by the President or a Senator; and a motion to lay another motion, the latter not being in writing, on the table, or otherwise to dispose of it, shall not be in order.

21.

Every bill shall receive three readings before it is passed; the President shall give notice at each reading whether it be the first, second, or third; the last of which reading of public bills shall be at least twenty-four hours after the first reading, unless the Senate unanimously direct otherwise: Provided, that private bills shall be read the second time by their title. Resolutions requiring the approbation and signature of the Governor shall be treated in all respects as bills; and the third reading of all bills of a public nature shall be ordered for some particular day.

22.

On motion of a Senator, public bills, after the second reading, may be referred to a Committee of the Whole.

23.

The final question upon the second reading of every bill which originated in the Senate shall be, "Shall this bill be engrossed and read the third time?" No amendment shall be received at the third reading, but it may be committed for amendment at any time before its final passage.

24.

Motions on bills and resolutions shall be sustained in the following order: 1. To postpone indefinitely. 2. To lay upon the table. 3. To commit. 4. To amend.

25.

A call for the previous question shall not at any time be in order. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, and shall be decided without debate.

26.

If the question in debate contains several points, the same may be divided on the demand of a Senator. A motion to strike out and insert shall not be divided, but the rejection of a motion to strike out and insert one proposition shall not preclude a motion to strike out and insert a different one, or a motion simply to strike out; nor shall the rejection of a motion simply to strike out, prevent a subsequent one to strike out and insert.

27.

In filling blanks the largest sum and the longest time shall be first in order.

28.

When the reading of a paper is called for, and the same is objected to by a Senator, the question shall be determined by a vote of the Senate.

29.

The yeas and nays shall be taken on the call of a Senator, and every Senator present shall vote unless excused by the Senate ; but no Senator shall be compelled to vote who was absent when the question was stated by the President, nor shall any one be permitted to vote who was absent when his name was called, nor after the decision of the question has been announced from the chair.

No Senator in the minority, nor one who did not vote on the decision of a question, shall have a right to move a reconsideration thereof ; nor shall any motion for reconsideration be in order unless made before the close of the next day of actual sitting of the Senate, after that in which the vote was taken, and before the bill, resolution, report, amendment, address or motion, upon which the vote was taken, shall, in the regular progress of business, have gone out of the possession of the Senate.

31.

On all questions, in the decision of which a simple majority is required, when the Senate is equally divided, the Secretary shall take the casting vote of the President. In all such cases, a motion for reconsideration, if made in time, shall be in order from any Senator who voted on the question.

32.

The President shall have the right to call upon any Senator to discharge the duties of the Chair, whenever he shall find it necessary temporarily to retire ; but such substitution shall not extend beyond more than one adjournment.

33.

The Senate having taken the final vote on any question, the same shall not again be in order during the same session, in any form whatever, except by way of reconsideration ; and when a motion for reconsideration has been decided, that decision shall not be reconsidered.

34.

No proposition to amend the rules of the Senate, or the joint rules of both houses, shall be acted on until the same shall have been before the Senate at least twenty-four hours.

35.

Messages shall be sent to the House of Representatives by the Secretary or Assistant Secretary.

Reporters may be placed on the floor of the Senate, under the direction of the Secretary, with the approbation of the President.

No person shall be admitted within the lobby of the Senate Chamber, except the Governor, Treasurer of the State, Auditor of Accounts, members of the other House, Judges of the Supreme Court, Circuit Judges, Senators and Representatives in Congress, Ex-Governors and Lieut. Governors, Ex-Judges of the Supreme Court, Ex-Senators of the State Senate, District Judge and Attorney of the United States, members of other State Legislatures, Clerk and Assistant Clerk of the House of Representatives, and the Secretary of Civil and Military Affairs, and such ladies and gentlemen as the President or a Senator may introduce.

When in session the Senators shall sit with their heads uncovered.

39.

Upon any disorderly conduct in the gallery, the President may order the same to be cleared.

40.

Whenever a bill or resolution is laid on the table, by order of the Senate, and shall have remained on the table twenty-four hours, it shall be subject to be taken up by the Chair, and presented for the consideration of the Senate, without a call or order on the subject.

There shall be one Door-Keeper and one Assistant Door-Keeper of the Senate ; and the Secretary may appoint a boy to attend in the Senate Chamber.

CHOICE OF SEATS.

At nine o'clock on the morning of the first day of the session, and before the Senate shall be called to order, the Secretary shall place in a box, prepared for the purpose, fourteen ballots, designating by name the several counties in the State, and shall proceed to draw therefrom, impartially, one ballot at a time, until all are drawn. And as each ballot is drawn, the Senator or Senators, from the county designated by such ballot, shall, personally, if present, or may, by proxy, if absent, select his or their seat or seats. If any Senator or Senators, from any county so drawn, should not be present, either personally or by proxy, at the time of such drawing, the county next drawn shall have preference.

propound to him the question,—“Were you within the bar of the House when your name was called?” Nor shall any member be permitted to vote on any question in which he is immediately or directly interested.

SEC. 14.

In all cases of ballot by the House, the Speaker shall vote; in other cases he shall not be required to vote, unless the House be equally divided, or unless his vote, if given to the minority, will make the division equal; and in case of such equal division the question shall be lost. And no member, or other person, shall visit or remain by the Clerk's table, while the yeas and nays are being called, or the ballots are being counted.

SEC. 15.

No member in the minority, or who did not vote on any question, shall have a right to move a reconsideration thereof, nor shall a motion for reconsideration be in order, unless made before the close of the next day of actual session after that on which the vote was taken.

SEC. 16.

Every member on presenting a resolution, shall state, shortly, the object of it, and shall be held responsible for the propriety of expression therein used.

SEC. 17.

Every motion shall be reduced to writing by the mover, if required by the Speaker, or any other member.

SEC. 18.

The Speaker shall have a right to call upon any member to discharge the duties of the chair, whenever, from indisposition or other cause, he shall find it necessary temporarily to retire from it; and when the House shall have resolved to go into committee of the whole, the Chairman shall be named by the Speaker.

SEC. 19.

All petitions shall be referred to a committee without reading, unless the reading be demanded by a member.

SEC. 20.

The House having once decided on any question, it shall not again be brought before the House by any member thereof, in any form whatever, during the same session.

SEC. 21.

When a motion shall be made for a call of the House, the call shall be ordered, if said motion is sustained by a majority of the members present.

SEC. 22.

No motion to amend the rules of the House shall be acted upon until it shall have been before the House at least twenty-four hours.

SEC. 23.

The Governor, Lieut. Governor, the Treasurer and Secretary of State, Auditor of Accounts, Secretary of Civil and Military Affairs, and members of the State Senate, Senators and members of Congress, the Judges of the Supreme and Circuit Courts, the District Judge, Collector, Attorney and Marshal of the United States, and such as have previously held those offices; the members of the Council of Censors; the clergy, and such as may be introduced by a member, shall be admitted to seats on the floor of the House.

SEC. 24.

Counsel may be admitted to advocate any cause, if permitted by three-fourths of the members present.

SEC. 25.

No bill shall pass the House until it shall have been read three several times, the last of which shall be at least twenty-four hours after the first reading, and the third reading of all bills of a public nature shall be ordered for some particular day.

SEC. 26.

Every bill originating in the House shall be engrossed before it is read a third time, and at the third reading it shall not be amended in the House unless by unanimous consent ; but it may be committed for amendment.

SEC. 27.

All bills shall be read a second time by their titles only, unless the reading shall be demanded by a member ; and all bills, after the second reading, and all petitions, memorials, remonstrances, resolutions and other papers, calling for legislative action, (except such as have been reported by a committee,) no objection being made, shall be referred by the Speaker to appropriate committees.

SEC. 28.

SEC. 29.

The subject matter of each and every bill shall be briefly indicated in the title by the mover, at the time of its introduction ; and every bill and resolution shall be properly folded, and the name of the mover and the town he represents, shall be legibly written on the bottom of the same before it shall be offered.

SEC. 30.

A two-thirds vote of all present shall be required for the suspension of any rule of the House.

MOTIONS.

SEC. 31.

A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, and shall be determined without debate.

SEC. 32.

Motions on bills and resolutions shall be sustained in the following order :

1. To dismiss.
2. To postpone to a day certain.
3. To lay on the table.
4. To commit.
5. To amend.

SEC. 33.

If the question in debate contain several points, the same shall be divided on the demand of a member. A motion to strike out and insert shall not be divided, but the rejection of a motion to strike out and insert one proposition shall not preclude a motion to strike out and insert a different one, or a motion simply to strike out prevent a subsequent one to strike out and insert.

SEC. 34.

In filling blanks, the largest sum and the longest time shall be the first in order.

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

SEC. 35.

The first hour of each morning's sitting may be devoted to the reception and disposal of petitions, memorials, remonstrances, motions, resolutions, and the introduction of bills ; after which the orders of the day, or other proper business, shall be announced, always commencing with the unfinished business of the last sitting. The first hour of the afternoon's sitting may be occupied in the receiving and disposing of reports of committees, and in completing the business of the morning hour ; at the expiration of which, the House will again take up the orders of the day.

REPORTS.

SEC. 36.

Reports of Committees may be signed by any member in behalf of the committee, and may be presented to the House during the afternoon hour. The signer of such report shall be held responsible for the accuracy of its statements, and the propriety of its language, and when the same shall be under consideration, he shall be further liable to answer all proper calls of any member of the House for additional statements of facts.

SEC. 37.

All bills and other matters reported to the House by committees, requiring the action of the House, shall be taken up and considered in the same order in which they are reported, unless the House should otherwise direct.

SEC. 38.

All incidental questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

SEC. 39.

While the Speaker is putting a question, or addressing the House, no one shall walk out of, or across the House, nor in such case, or when a member is speaking, shall entertain private conversation, nor while a member is speaking, shall pass between him and the chair; and every member shall remain with his head uncovered, during the session of the House.

Rules of the State Library.

RULE 1.

Books may be taken from the State Library by the Governor, and Secretary of Civil and Military Affairs; Members of the Senate and House of Representatives; Heads of Departments; Judges of the Supreme Court; State Superintendent of Common Schools; Superintendent of the Vermont State Prison, and Superintendent of the Insane Asylum.

RULE 2.

The State Library shall be kept open during the session of the General Assembly or Constitutional Convention, or while a Committee of the House or Senate may be in session, and at such other times as may be necessary for the convenience of members; and the privilege, to the members of the General Assembly or Constitutional Convention, of drawing Books from the Library, is limited to the time they may be in session.

RULE 3.

No law works, nor books presented by the United States or any State, or received through Vattemare's System of International and Literary Exchange, shall be taken from the Library, except for the use of the two Houses of Assembly, and the Committees at the Committee Rooms during the sessions of the General Assembly.

RULE 4.

A minute of every book drawn out from the Library shall be entered upon a memorandum book kept by the Librarian, and all books so delivered shall be returned to the Library previously to the final adjournment of the General Assembly, and every person to whom books are delivered shall be held responsible for their return.

RULE 5.

The State Librarian shall keep a schedule containing all the books of the State Library, with the numbers of each, and shall keep a book of Records, in which all donations and purchases of books, engravings or maps shall be recorded.

RULE 6.

The State Librarian shall procure to be bound ten copies of the session Laws, and ten copies of the Journals of the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Vermont for each year, and one volume each of the session Laws and Journals of the different States in the Union, together with four copies of the acts of Congress—all of which shall be deposited and preserved in the Library.

RULE 7.

All necessary expenditures of the State Library shall be reported to the Governor and Joint Committee of the Library each year for their examination and allowance; and no money shall be expended except for purposes having for their object the improvement of, and desirable additions to, the State Library.

RULE 8.

The State Librarian shall make an annual report to the Governor on the condition of the State Library, embracing all additions and donations made during the year—which report shall be communicated to the Senate for the use of the General Assembly, and published in the Journals of the Senate.

RULE 9.

Every person shall be answerable for all damages done by him to any book, map or engraving belonging to the State Library; and in case of the loss of any volume belonging to any set, he shall procure a new volume or pay the value of the entire set; and all actions brought for the enforcement of this rule may be brought in the name of the State Librarian on behalf of the State of Vermont.

RULE 10.

All Library Rules and Regulations prescribed by the Governor, agreeably to the Statute in such case made and provided, shall be published in the Annual Legislative Directory ordered by the General Assembly.

Choice of Seats.

IN HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, }
October 30, 1846. }

Resolved, That the Clerk of the House be directed to number the seats in the House, and put upon them the proper labels, and that he procure a small diagram of the Hall, containing the number of the seats, to be hereafter attached to the Directory.

Resolved, That members elect of the House may select seats on the afternoon of the day previous to the annual session of the Legislature, and notify the Clerk of their selection, who shall make a list of the seats selected; but no member shall be entitled to a preference in seats selected before the afternoon of the day previous to the session, nor unless selected by the member in person, by his personal attendance at the State House.

Resolved, That the resolution last aforesaid be adopted as a rule of this House, and be hereafter published with the Diagram of the Hall.

Attest, F. F. MERRILL, Clerk.
